Erich Fromm – Liebe, Freiheit und die Kunst zu leben.

Figure: Erich Fromm (1900–1980). Chosen over Freud (no usable footage — silent archival clips only) and over reusing Jung directly. Due-diligence confirmed: German Jew who fled Nazi Germany in 1933/34, Escape from Freedom (1941) is a foundational anti-fascist text, no extremist associations in the historical record. Broader politics democratic-socialist/humanist. Public reception strongly positive and enduring (The Art of Loving still widely read).

2. Audience & Niche Data

- Target: German-speaking, skewing older (reference data: 71.6% aged 55+, 42% aged 65+, 68.9% male) - Self-improvement/psychology confirmed as the least-competitive proven-revenue German niche researched (only 1 channel above $1k/mo in that cluster at time of research) - Performance signals from reference-channel data: - Sleep-format + money/transformation promise = single biggest lever (top video: 175K views, 4.6x multiplier) - Longevity/aging-well hook strong (94K views, 2.5x) - Direct wealth-law framing strong (101K views, 2.7x) - Relationship/infidelity content is the weakest category (0x–0.1x) — deprioritized

3. Format Mechanics

- German narrator voiceover (ElevenLabs-style TTS) - Pacing: ~119–128 words/minute - Standard videos: 25–60 minutes - Sleep-format videos: 2.5–4 hours - Visuals: desaturated archival-style portrait split-screen with ambient space/nebula background

4. Three Script Templates

Template A — Sleep/Long-Form Hypnotic (2.5–4 hrs) Modular, not linear. Built from a long chain of repeating beats, each following: (a) short teaching/reframe → (b) metaphor/visualization → (c) first-person present-tense affirmation stated twice → (d) breath/relaxation transition into the next module.

Roughly 60+ beats total across a full script: opening hook → CTA (comment phrase + like) → relaxation induction → foundational metaphor → reality-filter/belief-shapes-perception explanation → commitment framing (e.g. "90 nights") → evening ritual (3 steps) → blocks of "belief statement" affirmations (5–10 per block, built around a recurring metaphor like a library or a forest of roads) → future-self visualization → morning ritual → a core set of ~10 central belief statements (one of which carries the money-as-energy/manifestation framing) → combined evening invocation → guided nature visualization journey (forest → tree → fruit → river → house → fireplace → return) → dream reassurance passage → closing anchors (confidence, peace) → additional modules as needed (inner-critic dialogue, forgiveness work, inner-child work, trigger reprogramming, gratitude, closing recap).

Template B — Standard Single-Topic (~30–45 min) Linear argument, no trance language: 1. Hook — "what if [simple thing] could change your life" + dismiss complex/expensive alternatives 2. Curiosity-gap tease — promise to reveal "the biggest mistake" later (unresolved until near the end) 3. CTA cluster (once, early) — like + subscribe + comment specific phrase 4. Historical/cross-cultural authority section 5. Anticipated-skepticism bridge question 6. Pseudo-anatomical/energetic mechanism explanation 7. Problem framing (modern life / disconnection) 8. Real + pseudo-science blend 9. Named anecdote/case story (skeptic → tries it → breakthrough → closing quote) 10. First-person authority claim ("as a master of X, it is my deep concern...") 11. Deeper pseudo-science layer 12. Payoff — the teased "mistake" revealed, closing the loop from beat 2 13. Step-by-step practical instructions 14. Optional bonus depth layer 15. Expectation-setting ("not a magic wand," gradual timeline) 16. Identity-shift reframe (active self-caretaker vs. passive victim) 17. Opt-out permission ("not for everyone, that's fine") 18. Recap 19. Closing CTA (repeat like/subscribe/comment) 20. Poetic sign-off blessing

Template C — Manifestation-Ritual (Scarcity/Urgency Format) Heaviest CTA density of the three, built around a multi-day return loop rather than a single sitting. Distinctive elements: - Time-bound promise bookend (e.g. "results within 72 hours" opening and closing) - CTA repeated 8+ times throughout, each phrased slightly differently - Named composite testimonials with day-by-day specificity - Invented numerology/codes presented as manifestation numbers - Blended authority stack (not limited to one figure — e.g. a real Bible citation alongside the branded figure) - Only minimal genuine citation of the branded figure's real ideas even under their name - "Reveal the mistake" retention device reused from Template B - End-screen funnel explicitly directing to the next video

Condensed shape: hook (time-bound promise) → reframe → CTA → "why past attempts failed" → authority stack → numerology → breath induction → the "prayer"/mantra given → visualization → CTA → testimonials → pseudo-neuroscience explanation → CTA → the "mistake" warning → practical advice → the one genuine citation → signs/journaling instruction → CTA → final breath induction → prayer repeated escalating → full visualization → major CTA → return-window instruction → identity reframe close → final CTA cluster → next-video redirect.

5. Standing Rules

Address form: Always Du-Form (informal), never Sie — confirmed across every reference transcript studied.

Title formula: `[FULL ALL-CAPS HOOK] – [FULL ALL-CAPS PROMISE/RESULT CLAUSE] | Name (normal case)` Example: "MIT 65 BEGINNT DEIN WAHRES LEBEN – DAS WUSSTE ERICH FROMM SCHON VOR JAHRZEHNTE | Erich Fromm"

Description: Repeats the title verbatim — no separate summary.

Hashtag pool: `#Psychologie #Tiefenpsychologie #Unterbewusstsein #Selbstfindung #Persönlichkeitsentwicklung #InnereHeilung #Selbstwert #EmotionaleHeilung #Beziehungspsychologie #LiebeUndBeziehungen #InnereStärke #Lebensweisheit` + topic-specific additions, always closing with `#ErichFromm`.

Playlist: "Die Philosophie von Erich Fromm"

Thumbnail rules: - Deep navy-black night-sky/starfield gradient background, fine white star speckle, subtle blue-teal nebula tint permitted in a corner — no grid pattern, no golden/amber glow - Fully desaturated black-and-white portrait using the locked Fromm likeness reference photos (consistent face across every video) - Pose/expression varies by topic's emotional register: pensive/thoughtful (reflective topics), "shush" finger-to-lips (hidden-knowledge framing), hands clasped as if praying (manifestation topics), alarmed/serious stare (warning topics), contemplative side-profile (general default) - Thumbnail headline text is always a fresh paraphrase of the hook — never repeats the video title verbatim, not even a shortened excerpt. 2–4 short lines, ALL CAPS, two-tone color split, or white text on a red highlight box for the most emotionally charged phrase - Small relatable inset icon/diagram tied to the topic, bottom corner, circled or arrow-pointed - No duration stamp

Delivery: Every script as a full package — title, description, hashtags, thumbnail concept, playlist, the script itself — plus PDF and TXT file delivery.

6. Open / Flagged Items

- Footage rights unresolved — real archival footage sources identified (SWR, SRF, Fromm-Gesellschaft media archive) but none public domain; licensing conversation not yet started - Several sourced Fromm quotes need cross-checking against primary texts before any on-screen use - Standing accepted risk: the money-as-energy/manifestation framing contradicts Fromm's real documented anti-materialist position (Haben oder Sein) — kept anyway per explicit directive prioritizing proven revenue mechanics over fidelity to the source material; flagged as a live, accepted risk since Fromm is more fact-check-exposed on this point than Jung would be - Remaining confirmed topic list for future original scripts: longevity (produktives Altern), the Haben oder Sein core thesis, Die Furcht vor der Freiheit, alienated labor — relationship-themed topics deprioritized per performance data
